

Benefits

Music is a gift to gladden and bless the lives of all. When we raise the bar on our music skills, we are lifting ourselves, as well as others.

- This workshop will build testimonies and invite stake members to come unto Christ through the powerful message of music.
- If you are in a slump in your calling and need inspiration, this workshop will enlighten your mind and give you ideas on how to improve your abilities.
- You can receive instruction to help you become more confident in your abilities to bring music to your ward and stake members.
- You will be rejuvenated during this event and leave a better person, excited about magnifying your music calling and using music in your home.
- You will learn to identify appropriate music for your meetings and how you can enhance the spiritual tone of any meeting.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do I need to register?

Yes, please! You can register online now or just sign up for our email list and register later. Either way we’d love to email you updates about the workshop.

Do I have to attend the entire workshop?

You may come for the entire four hours or just for the specific classes that interest you. It is recommended that you attend the 9am Opening Session, which will be broadcast to the other three buildings. Please arrive early! Choose from a variety of 18 different classes.

How should I dress?

The Opening Session and other portions of the workshop will be held in the chapel, so please wear what you feel comfortable wearing in the chapel.

Why are there multiple building addresses?

This workshop is a regional workshop which means we need more than one building to accommodate the large number of attendees and the variety of classes offered. Please check our website for all information and for directions on our location link.

Location Information:

All 4 of the near-by LDS Church buildings are located in East Layton, please check our website for locations & direction links.
